

Experience

JOURNALISM

- Research, write, and produce daily reports, features and larger projects for major news organizations.
- Collect and edit digital audio for use in radio broadcast
- Interview subjects, gather ambient sound, record voiceover and mix final pieces
- Work in print, radio and web, including voice talent in all radio work
- Write grants and queries and manage project budgets

Areas of emphasis: science, medicine, technology, law, and cultural issues. Experience in many U.S. cities as well as overseas.

Clients (abbreviated list): National Public Radio, PBS Online, Marketplace, Minnesota Public Radio, KUOW Radio, WFDD Radio, Reuters Ltd, BBC Ukraine

Recognitions:

First place, reporting series, WA Press Assn.
Third place, documentary, WA Press Assn.
Special projects grant, WA Commission for the Humanities

MULTIMEDIA PRODUCTION

- Research content themes, help direct visual design
- Collaborate with others to direct narrative concepts
- Manage production of small- and large-scale projects, oversee and manage contributing writers, programmers and artists
- Create web pages and graphics, process media, including audio, video and animations

Areas of emphasis: documentary, journalistic and educational web-based projects

Clients (abbreviated list): Exploratorium, PBS Online, Minnesota Public Radio, American Radio Works, KUOW Radio, Mountainzone.com, ArtWolfe.com, K2 Sports, Microsoft

Recognitions:

Webby, (Exploratorium)
PBS/POV Web Development Fund grant

RESEARCH/WRITING

- Conduct deep library research, including legal, medical and government documents
- Create oral histories and use interviews as research tool
- Judge accuracy, currency, and context of source material
- Write factual and persuasive papers of varying length, from single-page essays to multi-chapter documents of over 100 pages

Areas of emphasis: immigration and refugee policy, international relations, medical and bioethics

Clients: U of WA Dept. of International Studies, U of WA Medical School, KUOW Radio, Jack Straw Studios, Microsoft

Recognitions:

MA in International Studies, including Master's Thesis on the media of Russian immigrants in the United States. (U of WA)

Robin Marks • www.biteback.com

TEACHING

- Create short curriculum units for high school students, focused on cultural studies, history, social studies, environmental issues, and science
- Guest teacher and speaker in public high schools
- Coordinate outreach efforts from university to teachers in public schools, work with teachers to develop educational materials

Areas of emphasis: ethnic and cultural studies, science, international relations

Clients: Walker Art Center, Seattle Public Schools, Jack Straw Studios, U of WA School of International Studies, Exploratorium.

SCIENCE

- Conduct and report on experiments in biochemistry laboratories
- Research and write educational materials
- Report about issues in the science community

Areas of emphasis: biotechnology, agriculture, and medical ethics.

Clients: Dept. of Medical Biochemistry, U of MN, Dept. of Biochemistry, U of MN, Exploratorium, KUOW Radio

Recognitions:

Published as co-author in Brain Science

Cited as lab technician in Biochemistry

First place, reporting series, WA Press Assn., five-part series on biotechnology

Language Skills

Experience working and reporting in Russian, conversational in French. Reading knowledge of Hebrew.

International reporting experience in Kiev, Ukraine, St. Petersburg, Russia and Melbourne, Australia.

Technical Skills

Web: HTML (hard code) * Photoshop * Dreamweaver * BB Edit * Flash * Freehand

Audio: SaDie system * Sound Forge * Protools * Deck II * Sound Edit * Analog

For detailed project portfolio, radio stories, print clips and other goodies, see:

www.biteback.com

References and demo CD available on request.